GARDNER IN FAST BOUT WITH RYAN

(Special to The Evening World.) MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 11.—Milwaukee fight lovers got their money's worth last night in the double wind-up bouts of "Buddy" Ryan and Gus Gardner, the latter of Philadelphia, and George Menzies, of West Baden, Ind., and "Battling" Nelson, of Chicago. Both bouts resulted in decisions on points, "Buddy" Ryan and Nelson being the two winners.

In the preliminaries Jack Dougherty, in the fight of his life, won the decision over Charles Ulrich, of Chicago, and Joe Brown, of Milwaukee, took the decision over "Kid" Brown, of Milwaukee.

All the bouts were for six rounds each. The Gardner-Ryan go was the hottest and best city has seen this fall. Both men were out to win, and while Ryan as round followed round piled up his advantage, there was not a moment during the fight that Gardner was not waiting for a chance for a knockout and victory.

LONG STAYS SIX ROUNDS WITH KELLY

(Special to The Evening World.) PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—Bob Long, the colored boxer of this city, took the place of Jimmy Handler against "Cyclone" Kelly in the main bout at the Southern Athletic Club last night, and by clever footwork and defensive boxing stayed the six rounds with the hard-hitting Western welter-weight.

Handler was ready and willing to go on, but his condition was far from perfect and the club's managers thought it advisable to secure a substitute. Long filled the gap left open by Handler in splendid fashion.

The first four rounds were all in favor of Kelly, but the colored man was strong and took Kelly's powerful blows without showing any signs of weakening. In the last two rounds Kelly made many efforts to put Long out and in his efforts he became very weak. Long, seeing his chances of staying the limit were good, forced the fighting, and by landing hard and often he managed to turn the tide and left the ring in great gain, as the verdict was a draw.

New York "Iron Man," However, Stayed Twenty Rounds with 'Frisco Light-Weight and Took an Awful Beating, Landing Only a Few Times on His Opponent.

(Special to The Evening World.) SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—Jimmy Britt, the San Francisco light-weight, outclassed Charles Sieger, the Iron Man from New York, last night, and was awarded the decision after twenty rounds of one-sided fighting. Sieger showed that he could take a world of punishment, but as a ring general and a boxer he is not to be compared with Britt. He was unable to hit the latter three effective blows during the twenty rounds of going, and his swings invariably went wide of their mark.

Had not Britt been so cautious he would have knocked his man out, but he seemed to be content with standing off and raining blow after blow on the head and body of the Italian.

Slieger Stood the Gauntlet.

Britt outfought the New Yorker in every round of the battle. His blows were generally well-directed and had a good deal of steam behind them. The Italian had a wonder taking punishment, and blocked and covered up in clever style.

Britt began to force the fighting at the outset, and never for a moment did he let up. He displayed extreme caution all through the battle and never took any chances. Several times Sieger was all but out, but Britt would not run the risk of ending in the finishing blow.

Slieger did not begin to show the effects of his hard beating till after the eleventh round. In that round Britt landed some terrific right and left swings which staggered his opponent, and for the first time during the bout Slieger showed signs of distress.

Wonderful Recovering Power.

From that time on the end was expected. At any moment, but Slieger showed remarkable powers of recuperation and after the rest between rounds he generally came up looking fresh for another round.

Slieger was being hammered so severely. His face was almost cut to pieces, and every time Britt landed a punch the blood spurted all over the ring.

Britt tried hard to land a knockout in the last few rounds of the contest, but Slieger devoted all his time to covering up and keeping away from the vicious rights and fists of the California hero.

The fight was given under the auspices of the San Francisco Club and drew a big house.

WHAT M'GRAW THINKS OF PITCHER M'GINNITY

Few Have Any Idea of the Ability of the "Iron Man," Giants' Manager Says.

That Johnny McGraw, manager of the Giants, regards Joe McGinnity as one of the best twirlers that ever stepped into a pitcher's box is no better proven than by a statement which he makes of McGinnity's prowess. In speaking of McGinnity recently McGraw said:

"If McGinnity had carried out his threat to desert the National League and cast his fortunes with one of the California teams the headiest pitcher in the business would have gone to the Slopes."

"Few who have watched the 'Iron Man' would care to see all he does in win games in addition to the mere throwing of curves and shots. With-out doubt he puts up more trick plays, with the aid of the infield, than any pitcher I have ever seen," continued McGraw.

Base Runners Fear Him.

Base runners take fewer privileges when McGinnity is on the slab than they do at any other time. He has it so arranged that it is not necessary for him to watch the bases, getting his signals from Lauder, McLean, or whoever is catching, as the case may be.

"Speaking of signals reminds me of some funny experiences, but one that happened in Philadelphia was the most laughable. It was when both McGinnity and myself were members of the champion Baltimore team. The Phillies were about the easiest club for us to beat, both at the home and on our own grounds."

How Murphy Was Fooled.

"One series we played in Philadelphia was while Murphy was in the 'lookout.' He was seated in the clubhouse, back of center field, and aided by a strong pair of field glasses he was supposed to pick out the battery signs and tip off the batters."

"After the first game, or, in fact, while it was in progress, we tumbled to the scheme, and from that time on switched them around so that even Murphy could not make them out. In one series McGinnity pitched two games."

REFEREE GAVE VERDICT AGAINST JOE WALCOTT

Sandy Ferguson Declared Victor After Black Demon Had Won by Big Margin.

(Special to The Evening World.) BOSTON, Nov. 11.—There was nothing to it. It was Walcott's decision by a big margin. He beat the heavy-weight from start to finish. It was the worst verdict ever given in this city when Referee Dan Donnelly decided Joe Walcott a loser in his bout last night with Sandy Ferguson, the Chelsea icon, at the New Criterion Athletic Club.

From the outset the dusky boxer was the aggressor, and kept his big antagonist on the run. Occasionally Ferguson would make a stand and jab fast and with good success, but it was done in a wily, che-wip fashion. The crowd applauded him, vigorously when this work occurred, and this undoubtedly went a great way toward causing the referee to select Ferguson as the winner.

Had Walcott pursued the tactics employed by Ferguson the members of the club would have seen a contest entirely devoid of interest. Instead, the little fellow, who was easily seven-five pounds lighter than his formidable antagonist, kept boxing in and forcing the battle. With telling jabs to the face and occasional hooks to the jaw, he had Sandy breaking ground and resorting to hugging tactics to avoid punishment. Immediately after shaking hands in the first Walcott landed left and right

JOHNSON LOCATES HERE.

Following in the path of Harry P. Johnson, President of the National League, and John J. McGraw, President of the American League, has decided to transfer his office here from Chicago to this city.

Johnson, who is now in the city, is expected to occupy the office on or about Jan. 1.

Johnson, who can be better attuned to the welfare of the city than he can in the West.

DOINGS OF THE FIGHTERS.

Tommy Felz, the little bantam-weight fighter, and Joe Cherry, of Detroit, will come together in a ten-round bout before the Metropolitan A. C., of Detroit, to-night. Cherry is looked upon as a likely lad by the fistic circles in the West, and as a consequence they predict that he will give Felz a harder fight than he ever experienced. They will battle at 122 pounds.

OFFERS TO TUCKER AND TERRY.

Another effort is being made by the matchmakers of the different fighting clubs in Philadelphia to arrange a match between Terry McGovern and "Chick" Tucker, of the Avonia A. C., of this city, who has defeated Johnny Marto and "Young Mississippi" two of the best feather-weights of Philadelphia, within the short period of nine days.

Jack McGulgan, of the National A. C., and Joe Macias, of the Washington Sporting Club, of the Quaker City, have both announced good offers for Tucker and Terry. Tucker has fought twelve fights in Philadelphia without a defeat.

SCANLAN LOSES IN AUSTRALIA.

Jim Scanlan, the Pittsburgh heavy-weight, who has been campaigning in Australia for the past two years, was badly beaten in fifteen rounds by Peter Felix, the colored champion of the antipodes, recently. Scanlan was thoroughly outclassed and resorted to foul tactics, whirling up by biting his opponent. He was at once disqualified by the referee. Felix has declared his intention of visiting this country in the near future.

BIG FIGHT RECEIPTS.

All Los Angeles records were smashed into bits by the receipts of the Johnson-McVay contest. The sum divided by the principals was nearly double the largest amount ever recorded for the proceeds of a pugilistic exhibition here.

TIGERS' HOPE OF BEATING YALE

Princeton Coaches Busy Figuring the Possibilities of Defeating Eli's Eleven at New Haven Saturday, While Students Snap Up All Bets on Game.

(Special to The Evening World.) PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 11.—While the defenders of the Orange and Black were working their hardest yesterday afternoon on the "varsity" field, going through all their plays and formations, the coaches were collected in knots around the gridiron, discussing the possibilities of downing Eli's representatives on Saturday, and figuring out the most likely ways of doing the trick.

While De Witt and Vetterline were busy perfecting their kicking the coaches were hard at work with the linemen, trying to perfect the defense, and getting the forwards off on the snap of the ball. Then, for an hour and a half, the whole team was sent through the fastest sort of signal practice, and afterward lined up against the scrub for a quarter of an hour.

All Practice in Secret.

All the regular formations were run through in secret, and all the new plays which are expected to surprise the New Haven team were brought into use. How they worked could not be ascertained, for all but players, coaches and trainers were denied admission to the grounds.

Though the game last Saturday showed but a poor article of football, the faith of the student body in their team is undiminished, and their loyalty and feeling of security have been shown by the way they have snapped up all bets on the game that have come their way.

The long string of subs that the Tigers have maintained this year make it possible for them to put on the field a second team very little weaker than the regular one.

Tigers Are Good Kickers.

Should the Elis play a kicking game Princeton will have very little fear of being outclassed; for, even should they lose the services of their captain, there are several subs who, though not his equal, should be able to hold their own with any that may be pitted against them.

The foremost of these is Vetterline. There seems to be no doubt that he will start the game on Saturday, as he has all the essentials of a good quarterback, and, though not as experienced as his opponent, Rockwell, has proved himself efficient in all points of the game.

"PROS." PLAY IN POOL TOURNAY

A professional game of pool will be played to-night in the rooms of the Bergman Bros., No. 1662 Madison avenue. This is the opening of the winter pool tourneys, and will bring together Charlie Otis, of Brooklyn, the winner of last year's tournament, and the St. Louis "Kid." They will play a series of 200 points each for a purse of $50.

The winner will meet Champion Grant Eby. A series of games have been arranged between other good players, and the tourneys are expected to run throughout the winter months.
